HE IS NOT HERE FOR HE HAS RISEN

Mending Fences Fellowship located in the East Sprague district of Spokane will once again be hosting a community outreach on Easter Sunday, April 20th. This has been an annual event for many years (excluding Covid).

WHERE WE’VE BEEN & WHERE WE’RE HEADED NEXT . . .

January 5,12— Morris at New Hope Bible Church, Spokane Valley, WA
February—April Country Bible Church, Dusty, WA (Papst, Hippe, Morris)
January— INDEFINITE * Sprague Community Church, Sprague, WA— Chuck Evans may be the official interim
February 23—Mending Fences Fellowship, Spokane, Wa (Mark Kennedy)

WE ARE AVAILABLE FOR PULPIT SUPPLY EVEN ON SHORT NOTICE.

Do you need assistance with Pulpit Supply, Creative Outreach Programs, AWANA or Kid’s Clubs, Sunday School, Family Camp, Teen or Kid’s camps or other special events? Contact us. We are here to serve.

Executive Director: Rev. George Hippe * 10817 E. 16TH AVENUE, SPOKANE VALLEY, WA 99206

STRIVING TO SERVE GOD’S SERVANTS

MARCH/APRIL 2025

30 TRILLION / 100 TRILLION

No, I’m not referring to the U.S. budget or our national debt. I am encouraging readers to consider the impossibility of life forming by chance. If you were to ask a scientist or science professor who holds that life began in primordial soup millions or billions of years ago how life started, you would hear comments like, “We’re not certain,” or “We are still working on that.”

Nobel prize winning scientist, George Wald said, “There are only two possible explanations as to how life arose: Spontaneous generation arising to evolution or a supernatural creative act of God. There is no other possibility. Spontaneous generation was scientifically disproved 120 years ago by Louis Pasteur and others, but that just leaves us with only one other possibility . . . that life came as a supernatural act of creation by God, but I can't accept that philosophy because I do not want to BELIEVE in God. Therefore, I choose to BELIEVE in that which I know is scientifically impossible, spontaneous generation leading to evolution.”

When one BELIEVER in the spontaneous generation of life said that if you don’t BELIEVE in the molecule to man theory, “you just don’t have a vivid enough imagination.” I’d reply, your imagination is overactive and ignores the obvious.” What are the FACTS of science? BELIEVE what you will, but know there is a high price to pay for ignoring the obvious because it clashes with your BELIEFS. If you BELIEVE there is no God, you’d better be right.

I choose to BELIEVE the words of Scripture, not a man’s imagination. “But ask the beasts, and they will teach you; the birds of the heavens, and they will tell you; or the bushes of the earth, and they will teach you; and the fish of the sea will declare to you. Who among all these does not know that the hand of the Lord has done this? In his hand is the life of every living thing and the breath of all mankind.” Job 12:7-10 As we study the science of life, beasts and birds and plants and the fish of the sea, our own human form, these all point to amazing design and the Designer. This is not a blind, mindless BELIEF, but a BELIEF based on evidence.

The human body is a marvel of design, composed of approximately 30 trillion cells. Each cell is a miniature universe, composed of 100 trillion atoms. According to those who refuse to BELIEVE “in the beginning, God created,” atoms somehow materialized as the result of random self-generating forces, which came into existence at just the right time and place to make the potential of life possible.

After the atom’s formation there were millions of random combinations that occurred to form the chemicals needed to support life. These chemicals then formed over 500 amino acids including the 21 amino acids necessary to produce protein, the building block of life. These amino acids arranged themselves in an exact sequence to initiate the possibility of life. Some BELIEVE that this resulted in the gradual development of life over billions of years. Do you begin to see why the term “THEORYTALE” is appropriate for the molecule to man theory? To grasp the enormity of these chance possibilities is to enter the realm of the impossible.

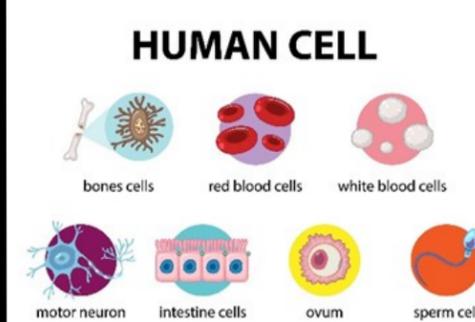

An honest scientist knows this is impossible. If one is going to reject “In the beginning God,” at least have the intellectual honesty and character to blame life on “ET.” An honest scientist knows this is impossible. If one is going to reject “In the beginning God,” at least have the intellectual honesty and character to blame life on “ET.”

Atoms are the basic units of matter, and their arrangement and interaction give rise to the molecules that form the building blocks of life. With an estimated 100 trillion atoms per cell, the human body is a miniature universe of activity. These atoms include hydrogen, carbon, nitrogen, oxygen, among others, each contributing to the molecular structures essential for life. And of course, to the one who BELIEVES this all happened through millions of attempts of trial and error until random forces got things just right to form all the life forms on earth this is viewed not as a “THEORYTALE” but as scientific fact.

At the atomic level, the forces of nature—electromagnetic, gravitational, strong, and weak nuclear forces—govern interactions and reactions. These forces ensure stability and enable the processes within cells, from energy production in mitochondria to the synthesis of proteins in ribosomes. Another miracle of time and chance?

By our understanding of electrical charges, the positive particles in the nucleus of an atom should repel each other. The atom as we understand it, should not exist. This is not totally understood. This is referred to as the “strong force” or the “strong nuclear force.” There is no stronger force than the hand of God. Colossians 1:17 “He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together.” One may ridicule this thought, but what is the alternative concluded from human imagination? I find it interesting that though we cannot see an atom directly, there is indisputable indirect evidence that atoms exist. Is not the same true for God? His fingerprints are everywhere.

Trillions of atoms make up trillions of cells. Cells are the foundational units of life. Each performs a specific function to maintain the delicate balance of the human organism. From the oxygen-carrying red blood cells to the protective white blood cells, every type is a specialist in its own right. These cells communicate, replicate, and adapt, forming tissues, organs, and ultimately, the entire human body.

Considering the sheer number of cells, the synchronization required to keep a human alive is nothing short of miraculous. Each cell cooperates with precision, executing its role in harmony with others. This cellular symphony is orchestrated by genetic instructions encoded within DNA, a molecule that itself is a product of countless atoms arranged in a complex double helix structure. DNA is found in the nucleus of most cells and contains the genetic code of life. Your DNA is unique. Was this also the product of time and chance? This unique combination of bases labeled A,C,T and G are what makes up the rungs of the DNA ladder. It takes a lot of faith to believe this all just happened. I readily admit I don't have that much faith. I BELIEVE the Word of God and the facts of science.

The complexity of the human body alone causes us to consider the improbability of such an outcome arising purely by chance. The precise mechanisms that govern the function of cells and the intricate design of molecular structures directly point to the Designer, Creator God. To ignore this truth is to willfully ignore observable facts. The Psalmist has said it well, “We are fearfully and wonderfully made.” Because they refuse to see and hear, others continue to question how the miracle of how life began. To ignore truth is to ignore at one's own eternal peril. I can think of 130 trillion reasons to believe in Creator God. What about you?

WHO AND WHAT DO YOU BELIEVE?
THERE ARE ETERNAL CONSEQUENCES TO YOUR ANSWER.

Thoughts from Dawna . . . DOING THE RIGHT THING

Have you ever met someone, exchanged names, then you see them again later and they call you by the wrong name? You don't want to embarrass them, so you don't correct them. Next thing you know, months go by, they're still calling you Matilda or Mario and you're like...I've just let this go on too long and there's no way to back out of it now so apparently my name is Matilda!

Sometimes you start down a path in life or maybe even just make a simple decision then find out later that it was a bad choice. There are times that a bad decision might not be sinful initially but then you discover something that makes you realize you were in the wrong. The sinful action then happens when there's refusal to alter the course, make an apology, change behavior, and take full accountability. Obviously, taking accountability can be risky or humiliating. You might lose friendships, be alienated by family, lose your job, be embarrassed in front of your spouse, or have your chair revoked on a political committee. We all have a consequence we dread that is like an “I'll do anything but that” type of negotiation in our minds.

Doing the right thing doesn't always hurt or cost you much of anything like giving back the extra change when the cashier hands you the wrong amount, you hand it back and feel proud of yourself. Sometimes choosing not to sin is the hardest thing you'll ever have to do. Doing the right thing may alter the course of your life and it probably won't feel good in the moment like they show you in the movies. Doing the right thing in some situations may never “feel” good because your mind will want a conclusion that makes sense and that doesn't always happen.

Subscribing to sin because it started out innocently or because the result in your mind will be a good thing, will not bring God's prosperity on your life. While we may attempt to shield our minds and our conscience from guilt by doing the wrong thing for the right reasons, the ripple effects of destruction will be far more powerful than you'll ever know in this life. When we continue in sin out of self-preservation, to protect our reputation, or to stay “right” about something, the lies that you must tell yourself grow exponentially and innocent people suffer profoundly.

“Whoever conceals their sins does not prosper, but the one who confesses and renounces them finds mercy.” Proverbs 28:13

PLEASE CONTINUE TO PRAY WITH US AND FOR US

- Country Bible Church in Dusty, WA as they seek a new shepherd for their flock
- Pray for George's brother, Ron, as he is dealing with a cancer challenge. Ron is a retired pastor living in the Atlanta, GA area. He has been the main care-giver for his wife Barb as well. Their children have stepped in to assist for which we are most grateful.
- Wisdom and health for our son, George II, with ongoing health challenges
- Pastor Kevin Che'n and his wife Janell as Kevin battles kidney failure.
- Praise for good personal health.
- Praise for God's goodness in with ministry finances * we have no debt. THANK YOU FOR GIVING.
- Praise for men who have been available for pulpit supply assistance
- Continue to pray for wisdom in seeking a “Timothy” - someone to potentially become director
